I had some input into it, but the rodenticide policy was handled by Kelly Sherman of SRRD. Carol Stangel did the fact sheets. The relevant documents by now should be available electronically.

Questions concerning the policy should go to Kelly. Questions concerning technical matters should be directed to me (when I'm here) or to Dan Peacock. Dan also has been working on procedural aspects of registrants' compliance with the new policies. The people that you have been meeting with probably would not be directly involved with those issues but might be affected by them ultimately.

I don't drink coffee but would be happy to meet with you and Lee. I will be here today and tomorrow but then will be off-site until July 9 regarding a rat situation that is decidedly non-urban.

Hi Bill -
Two small items:

1. I participate in the Federal IPM Coordinating Committee for OPP. At yesterday's meeting, both the Department of Defense and the National Park Service asked questions about details of the new rodenticide rule.

I said that I would see what fact sheets or information we have & world forward that to the group, and if the fact sheets didn't answer their questions, I would provide a point of contact for their questions.

Can you help me or point me in the right direction?

2. We have a new member of our staff, Lee Tanner, who came to us from DC (or WASA?) government and is focusing on Urban IPM issues, Ilike to buy you coffee and introduce you.

Thanks, Steve Hopkins.
